ABOUT THE WEBINAR

Research articles and research proposals are core of agricultural and animal husbandry research organizations. Scientists and faculty members essentially require nationally and internationally funded research projects to fulfill the vast demands of growing agricultural and allied sectors. Most of the projects proposed by various faculties cannot get the desired attention due to lack of research writing and project drafting skills. Scientists have cutting edge research ideas but due to lack of crisp presentation of key findings; Indian scientists miss out on the opportunities to publish their research in high impact journals. This is also a common problem observed in PG and Ph.D students. Therefore, there is a strong need of catering to these needs of PG, Ph. D. students, faculties and scientists. This webinar on “Capacity Building Workshop for Writing High Impact Research Articles and Winning Research Proposals” will definitely aid in improving these skills of the needful people.
